DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The title of the invention filed on 6/17/2005 has been accepted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 25-27, 29-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 25-27, 29-32 are drawn to functional descriptive material embodied on a computer readable medium (i.e., "data structures and computer programs which impart functionality when employed as a computer component" at MPEP 2106.IV.B(1)). However, the program/algorithm itself merely manipulates data or an abstract idea, or merely solves a mathematical problem without a limitation to a practical application in the technological arts. MPEP 2106.IV.B.2(a) (Statutory Product Claims) states:

"A claim limited to a ... manufacture, which has a practical application in the technological arts, is statutory."

In order for a claimed invention to accomplish a practical application, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result" State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47

Art Unit: 2625

USPQ2d at 1601-02 (see MPEP 2106.II.A). Currently, the claim does not recite a practical application.

"In contrast, a claimed computer-readable medium encoded with the data structure defines structural and functional interrelationships between the data structure and the computer software and hardware components which permit the data structure's functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory." - MPEP 2106.IV.B.1(a)

Since the application has already claimed computer-readable medium encoded with the data structure, the examiner is suggesting canceling claims 25-27, 29-32 to place the application into condition for allowance.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-3, 5-11, 13-19, 21-24 are allowed.
